

EARLY SCENES OF GETTYSBURG STIR INTEREST OF HISTORIANS

"Penelope Ann," the old Globe hotel, the McClellan House, General James Gettys' home, the Schick residence, Fahnestock's store, Center square with a "triumphal arch" and other familiar—scenes from Gettysburg of the last century were projected on a screen for members and guests of the Adams County Historical society who jammed the society's rooms in the court house basement Tuesday evening.

Dr. Frederick Tilberg, National Park historian and chairman of the society's program committee, showed and described the pictures, "Old timers" in the audience, however, added to his remarks frequently and occasionally disputed an identification of an old building. There were several old pictures shown that none could identify.

From Glass Plates

Most of the pictures, Dr. Tilberg explained, were slides reproduced from old glass plates of Matthew Brady, the Civil War photographer, and Tyson and Tipton of Gettysburg. Except for a few earlier, undated views the collection showed Gettysburg scenes from shortly after the battle here to the early 1900's.

Doctor Tilberg showed first a copy of the Gettysburg town plan as it was in 1850 and followed with a view of the first court house that stood in the center of Center square. There was a view of the Willis house on the square taken about 1890. Scenes looking out each of the four main streets from the square followed.

This series showed the old Globe hotel on York street at the present site of the Sherman apartment building; the old St. James Lutheran church; the J. L. Schick home where the Dougherty and Hartley building now stands; the Fahnestock building on Baltimore street, the court house without its western wing which Dr. Henry Stewart said was added in the 1890s, the Gettysburg Compiler building, now the McClellan building, with "Penelope Ann," storied cannon, resting in the sidewalk in front of the building.

FARM YOUTHS TO BE HONORED AT AREA MEETING

Forty certificates for outstanding activities in various projects during the last year will be presented to Adams county students Thursday evening at the second annual Adams-Franklin area Future Farmers of America banquet to be held at the Evangelical Lutheran church, New Oxford. Certificates will also be presented to Franklin county students for their work.

A feature of the session will be presentation of "Area Farmer" awards to a possible 35 youngsters who were outstanding in their FFA work during the past year. This year will mark the first time such an award has been given. It is given to those students whose work far exceeds the requirements for the "Chapter Farmer" award, but who were not able to secure the "Key-stone Farmer" award presented to the outstanding FFA students in the state.

Richard C. Lighter, area supervisor of agricultural education, said the students to whom the Area Farmer award will be given will be selected at a special meeting of all agriculture teachers to be held at the New Oxford Lutheran church at 5:45 o'clock Thursday evening. Each teacher has made application for those students in his class eligible for the honor. Thursday all of the teachers will go to determine those to get the award.

To Present Skits

Also scheduled for the dinner program, will be five-minute skits by each of the 10 clubs in the area and a talk by Richard Waybright, state FFA reporter. About 130 are expected to attend the session. Ray Garber, Chambersburg, president of the area FFA group, will be toastmaster.

France Sends A Million Gifts In Appreciation Of Friendship Train

New York, Feb. 2 (AP)—A French ship, symbolizing the gratitude of the French people to Americans, received a riotous welcome in New York harbor today.

Ship whistles blared, planes roared overhead and fireboats spread a sheen of white water skyward as the Steamship Magellan, bearing the French "thank you" train, passed the Statue of Liberty.

The 49-car train—one car for each of the states and the District of Columbia—is the French "Merci" for the "Friendship Train" which Americans sent to France last year laden with food and gifts.

Among the 1,000,000 gifts aboard the train are historic documents, flags and other souvenirs of both World Wars. Veterans working on

106 Are Examined

With the sending of the group the local draft board expects, under present arrangements, to remain quiescent, as far as physical examinations for men and army inductions are concerned, for the next several months.

So far the draft board, since its establishment last fall, has sent 106 men to Harrisburg for pre-induction physicals, of which 30 passed for army service. At the present time there are 14 men who have been examined and passed for army duty on the rolls of the board.

The 11 sent into the army Monday is the largest group to leave the county under the post-war set-up. Previous calls were for five men, bringing the total sent into the army under the present board to 16.

In addition to the 14 already examined 138 men who have not as yet been called for physical examinations are also listed as 1-A by the draft board at the present time.

Final tabulation and reports from rural areas are not expected to be completed for at least another week and the total contributions to the 1949 drive will not be available until that time, Mrs. Codori said.

Last year more than $4,000 was donated and it is hoped that this year's total will exceed that amount.

France Sends A Million Gifts In Appreciation Of Friendship Train

France's nationalized railroad system are mainly responsible for organizing the gratitude train.

The harbor display of America's welcome began as the Magellan, shepherded by a dozen welcoming smaller craft, neared the Statue of Liberty—itself a gift of the French people, completed on tiny Bedloe's Island in 1886.

Echelons of army, navy and police planes winged overhead in the bright winter sunlight.

The Magellan moved on toward a berth at Weehawken, N. J., across the Hudson river from Manhattan, where huge derricks will lift the cars of the train onto a railroad siding.

Sections of the train will begin moving out of Jersey City, N. J., during the coming week-end.

Groundhog Sees His Shadow And May Hibernate Six More Weeks

Quarryville, Pa., Feb. 2 (AP)—The groundhog crept out of his hole today and spied his shadow. That means—to believers in this traditional "forecast"—there will be six more weeks of wintry weather.

Squad 13 of the Slumbering Lodge of Groundhogs witnessed the shadow-viewing at 9:10:36 a. m., and went through the annual wigwag gyrations to relay the news to groundhog headquarters at Quarryville.

The expedition reported from Stony Hill. Treading cautiously a path across ice-crusted snow a foot deep, Hibernating Governor Charles F. Hess and other members of the lodge had assembled in their traditional tall silk hats and nightshirts to hail their hero.

According to the old legend in these parts, if the groundhog crawling from his hole on Candlemas Day sees his shadow, winter has six more weeks to run. If not, stow away your red flannel underwear!

A little after the fuss quieted down, the lodge bestowed an honorary membership on President Truman. The President became the first

NEGRO MAY NOT BE SENTENCED UNTIL MARCH 14

Jack "Biddy" Baker, 47, Cuban-born negro who pleaded guilty to two charges of assault and battery Monday afternoon for an assault on Mrs. Mary Flynn, 34, at the Flynn farmhouse east of Gettysburg January 28, may not be sentenced before March, authorities said today.

"I am told that Baker has entered pleas of guilty to the two charges, which would permit sentence as early as February 14," District Attorney Daniel E. Teeter said today. February 14 is the next possible date at which sentence could be imposed in Adams county court.

"Baker will probably be sentenced March 14," Teeter said, "since Mrs. Flynn will hardly be able to be present in February, and should be in sentence court at the time that Baker is sentenced."

INFECTION DEVELOPS

Mrs. Flynn suffered a severe laceration of the left hand between the middle fingers in warding off Baker's alleged attack, and broke her left leg in jumping from a second story window at her home after breaking away from her assailant.

The district attorney said today he had been informed that an infection had developed in Mrs. Flynn's hand.

60 HOMELESS AFTER CAVE-IN IN CARBONDALE

Carbonale, Pa., Feb. 2 (AP)—Sixty persons were homeless today as the result of the cave-in of an idle anthracite mine in this community of 20,000.

The earth cracked wide open over the idle mine yesterday, dropping one house eight feet into the ground and damaging 13 others in a three-block area.

Three injured persons were still in the hospital today. The other 57 left homeless were living with relatives or in hotels. Police estimated the damage to the homes and surface areas at $100,000.

Area Roped Off

The mine beneath the homes was leased by the Hudson Coal Company to the De Angelis Coal Company.

Police said there was no additional noticeable drop in the earth but "it might remain the same way for a week or so, then drop again; other cave-ins have done that."

The sunken area has been roped off and all traffic forbidden. Some of the houses are sitting at odd angles.

Loud underground rumblings warned the sleeping residents, most of them miners and their families, of the impending cave-in. As the earth parted, water mains burst, telephone and electric lines were ripped out. Escaping gas added additional danger.

Start Investigation

State police, county commissioners and coal company officials began immediate investigations.

In the General Assembly at Harrisburg legislation to fix the blame for such occurrences was submitted to the state's governing body.

A bill, submitted by Reps. George D. Stuart (R-Allegheny) and James E. Lovett and Anthony J. Petrosky (both D-Westmoreland), would amend a 1941 law.

Under the amendment it would be illegal to dig coal in a way to endanger surface support of privately owned property. The same protection would be extended to third class cities in the bituminous as well as the anthracite region.

Roth and Arthur J. Roth as color bearers and color guards. M. Sgt. William L. Baldwin, chief trumpeter, Pennsylvania Brigade, Sons of Union Veterans Reserve, sounded taps. It marked the 641st funeral at which he has been bugler since 1918.

LI MAY GO TO REDS FOR PEACE

Nanking, Feb. 2 (AP)—Acting President Li Tsung-jen may fly to Communist territory to try for peace.

Sources close to Li said today he had the flight under consideration but that it would be made only if all other peace efforts collapsed.

Li is high on the Communist list of war criminals. Many doubt that he could make more a local peace involving Nanking, Shanghai and Hankow and the rest of the lower Yangtze Valley.

"The time has passed," said one Chinese leader, "when Li or anyone other than Chiang Kai-shek can make a national agreement. There is doubt that Chiang could make a pact binding on all areas of China."

Delivery of the lower Yangtze from Hankow to the sea in exchange for concessions would resemble the transaction by which Gen. Fu Tso-Yi surrendered Peiping.

The absence of strong military forces from the Nanking area strengthened the belief Li is making some progress toward a Yangtze peace pact. There has been official silence on the subject, however. The military front was quiet.

BULLETINS

Washington, Feb. 2 (AP)—An unofficial gesture by Premier Stalin for a get-together with President Truman behind the iron curtain found today on its Washington-only terms.

The offer was not made to Mr. Truman directly. It was contained in a second exchange of messages with an American newsmen.

Stalin's published reply suggested Russia, Poland or Czechoslovakia as the locale for a meeting. It said the premier's health would not permit any long trip by sea or air. This was the same reason Stalin had given previously to both Presidents Roosevelt and Truman in rejecting invitations to come to the United States.

Munich, Germany, Feb. 2 (AP)—Six convicted war criminals, including two concentration camp inmates who turned on their fellow prisoners, were hanged today at Landsberg prison.

Three of the six were accused of killing surrendered American aviators who parachuted from damaged planes over Germany. The executions increased to 103 the number of war criminals hanged at Landsberg since Oct. 15.

Washington, Feb. 2 (AP)—Democrats drove through the House ways and means committee on a 17 to 8 vote today a bill restoring until June 12, 1951 the full powers of the old reciprocal trade law. President Truman requested the legislation, telling Congress it is needed to remove hobbles put on trade negotiations by the GOP tariff law passed in 1948.

Ripon, Wis., Feb. 2 (AP)—Search was resumed today for the bodies of five persons believed to have perished in the fire which destroyed the Grand View hotel early yesterday. One unidentified body was recovered from the ruins late yesterday, but Police Chief Ira Dunham said five other hotel guests still were unaccounted for.

Philadelphia, Feb. 2 (AP)—A twin engine transport plane's landing gear collapsed yesterday while the craft was taxiing on a runway at North Philadelphia airport. Two of the 23 passengers were slightly injured.

The plane, operated by Peninsular Air Transport, was bound from Newark, N. J., to Miami, Fla. It had landed at the Philadelphia field to pick up two passengers.

As the landing gear failed, the plane tilted to the left, one wing touched the ground and the craft came to an abrupt halt. Most of the passengers left the plane without assistance.

Treated at a hospital were Mrs. Jessie Simpson, 32, of Fall River, Mass., and 15-month-old Charles Barry Rubin of Miami Beach, Fla.

Dismissed Teacher Will Take Appeal

Shenandoah, Pa., Feb. 2 (AP)—Mrs. Annabell Bittling Houser, dismissed English and music teacher at Ringston high school, said she would appeal the case to the State Department of Public Instruction.

Yesterday 27 of the school's 111 students were absent in the afternoon in protest over her dismissal. They paraded in the streets carrying placards reading "we want Houser."

A school board spokesman said Mrs. Houser was dismissed because she was neither punctual nor cooperative and generally failed to comply with school board rules.

Old Song Is Right About London Bridge

London, Feb. 2 (AP)—It's true London Bridge is Falling Down.

London bridge, now almost 120 years old, has dropped several inches at one point on its south side, river users reported today.

But city officials aren't worried that it will tumble into the river Thames. It may be falling a bit, they said, but it's under constant observation, no new cracks have appeared in it, and on the whole it's "perfectly sound."

ASK POLICY REVIEW

Washington, Feb. 2 (AP)—A committee of Pennsylvania congressmen has asked the Veterans Administration to review the curtailment of veterans hospital construction in the Keystone state. The VA recently eliminated 16,000 from its proposed national construction program. The congressmen say the cut in Pennsylvania represents nine per cent of the total.

HAZLETON MILL BURNS

Hazleton, Pa., Feb. 2 (AP)—A general alarm blaze, which threatened for awhile to spread to a nearby illuminating gas tank, last night damaged two buildings of the Hazleton planing mill. No one was injured although several firemen were overcome by smoke as five fire companies battled the flames.

Others suggested it might have been the former United Presbyterian church of West High street. Others dissented from that opinion and there was also disagreement on the identity of an old dwelling labelled the David McCreary home at the present site of the Episcopal church.

There were also pictures of South Stratton street soon after the battle, showing the old Reformed church, the home of Gen. James Gettys on what is now Race Horse alley, the old Catholic church, an early drawing of the recently abandoned county jail, the Dobbin house, an early picture of the Jennie Wade house, the Lincoln parade, November 19, 1863, in which one in the audience said Lincoln was clearly visible; the soldiers' orphans' home opposite the president Cyclorama, a view from East Cemetery hill in the '90's showing the "new" Gettysburg reservoir, early scenes in Evergreen cemetery and the National cemetery with its first lodge.

Arch In Square

Various pictures of Center square showed the Farmers and Merchants bank where the First National now stands and one picture showed an elaborate "triumphal arch" in the square which Dr. Stewart said was erected "before 1888" for GAR gatherings; a sketch of the Dr. Robert Horner house and office building; an early drawing of the Eagle hotel that later burned; the John Burns residence on Chambersburg street with the Civil war hero sitting on the front porch; several early campus scenes of the seminary and college buildings and a picture of a log building at the present site of the gas company office, erected as a private school before Gettysburg college but later used as a public school.

President J. M. Sheads presided at the meeting at which Treasurer Harry T. Stauffer reported 66 members enrolled so far this year. Dr. Robert Portenbaugh, chairman of the library and museum committee, reported the addition of a new map of Pennsylvania to the society's collection.

Presents Picture

J. Frank Dougherty presented a group picture of the Gettysburg baseball club of 1895-1898 that included Eddie Plank.

A motion providing for an amendment to the society's constitution to create life memberships at $25 was given preliminary approval with final action set for the next meeting.

It was announced that the society's museum rooms in the courthouse basement will be open regularly on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons and Saturday evenings.

GENERAL STATE AUTHORITY GETS 'CLEAR SAILING'

By LEONARD A. UNGER

Harrisburg, Feb. 2 (AP)—The General State Authority, a Democratic rainchild dressed up in brand new republican clothes, headed for clear sailing in the legislature today.

Both the Republican majority and the Democratic minority joined hands in lauding the Authority plan. It was proposed by Gov. James H. Duff yesterday as an adjunct to his ear-billion dollar budget.

Legislation reviving the Authority to finance a $147,000,000 building program is expected to be submitted to the lawmakers shortly. Former Democratic Gov. George H. Earle first established the Authority in 1935. Republicans abolished it 10 years later.

Praise From Both Sides

The Authority is a means to meet immediate building needs without imposing new taxes. It would issue long-term bonds to pay for new buildings with the state paying rental for the Authority for their use.

Sen. M. Harvey Taylor, GOP state chairman and one of Duff's strongest supporters, praised the Authority and other portions of Duff's message as "the most forward-looking program we have ever had."

Rep. H. G. Andrews, Democratic house leader, aligned himself with Taylor. Democrats, he said, "welcome the Authority approach as a method of meeting the (construction) problems."

"Wait and See" Attitude

Andrews' opposite number in the House, Rep. Charles H. Brunner, Jr., GOP chieftain, echoed the praise with a comment that the state had no choice but to turn to the Authority method unless "it wants to seriously curtail vitally needed public improvements."

Opposition rose, however, from Sen. John Snowden (R-Lycoming) who said he is "definitely against any more Authorities. I'm not in favor of tinkering with the constitution to run up our debt. Let's pay as we go."

On housing, another important phase of Duff's program, Democrats adopted a "wait-and-see" attitude.

Ask Time for Study

Both Andrews and Sen. John H. Dent, Democratic floor leader, said they wanted more time to study

Littlestown

William V. Sneeringer, East King street, returned on Monday from Louisville, Ky., where he spent several days with his daughter, Miss Rose Sneeringer, who is a patient in the S.S. Mary Elizabeth hospital. Miss Sneeringer is slowly improving following an operation.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Littlestown Chamber of Commerce, held Monday evening at the home of the president, Charles W. Welkert, West King street, a nominating committee was appointed consisting of Holman L. Sell, Nevaeh Crouse and Stanley B. Stover. Elections will be held at a meeting of the organization which will be held in the near future at the call of the president. A number of items of business were also discussed that will be presented at the meeting which the president will call. Conditions of the main streets of the borough were also discussed and a committee was appointed to contact the proper authorities, and ascertain how conditions can be remedied.

Mr. and Mrs. George Maitland, Jr., Matthias apartments, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stonestier, Hanover, left today for a trip to Florida. The Health and Welfare committee which includes Edgar A. Wolfe Duff's plan to subsidize low-rent housing construction up to $15,000,000. The Governor asked that the state give $15,000,000 to private industry to erect low-rent housing units with the state fixing the rent. He said it would see the construction of $50,000,000 in housing.

Republicans applauded the idea. Typical comment came from House GOP leader Brunner who said the housing plan was "a very sound, logical and modern solution" to the housing problem in Pennsylvania.

Hospitals Disappointed
The state Veterans of Foreign Wars came out for the program in a statement by Commander Hiram V. Hartman.

"Governor Duff is to be congratulated for having the courage to initiate a housing program that has been neglected by his predecessors," he said.

Failure by the Governor to boost substantially state grants to hospitals brought criticism from the Hospital Association of Pennsylvania.

President Herman Mehrling said "the needy will suffer" because Duff allowed only a million dollars more for Pennsylvania's 169 community hospitals.

Today's Talk

VALUE OF MANY INTERESTS

I have often called attention to the value of having many interests to occupy one's mind. Interests are a stimulant that gives only good "after-effects." The more interests anyone has the happier he is sure to be. And when I say interests I do not mean details. Details are little robbers.

For years I have had many hobbies—collecting etchings, rare books, a little summer island camp, writing these Talks, interest in a small printing shop, and running a news-addition, all sports interest me, and I follow many with great enthusiasm.

I spent an evening with a friend, and we were talking about these many diversions, when my friend snapped out: "I'll bet you even collect postage stamps!" I replied that I sure did, and began when a mere boy, though I dropped out of the game until I became more intelligent and discriminating. I have found this hobby highly educational and fascinating.

There is this about having many interests—if you lose one now and then, there are plenty left to hold your attention and enthusiasm.

Speaking of collectors, I know of a wealthy man who collected many forms of art and rare books. He had fine taste, knew and loved his treasures. A part of his collection of rare French books were recently sold in New York for nearly half a million dollars. I viewed the collection and it was truly a beautiful lot. One book—a work of art—sold for $25,000. I believe that they all were kept in a vault in Paris, however, during this mans life. But when he visited Paris from America, he always cabled to have his treasures placed in his room, so that they would greet him as friends upon his arrival. This was always done.

Interests not only add to one's enjoyment, but they actually prolong one's life, as has been proved time and again. A person begins to waste away just so soon as his interests begin to die or take flight. Interests do more than anything to aid one into "the more abundant life."

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Fear and Worry."

GROUND HOG DAY

This is the day when the woodchuck scrambles

Out of his hole and the meadow rambles.

Should he see his shadow where he is creeping.

Back he'll go to stay six weeks sleeping.

Wise little woodchuck, this I wonder: Do you know more than we men who blunder?

Is your shadow to you a truth expressing

Too deep for humans who trust to guessing?

Is it fact or fable? Does woodchuck knowledge

Excel that taught in our greatest college?

Does the woodchuck's shadow mean winter's staying?

Or, is that just a thought which men are saying?

SAYS STALIN HAS OTHER MOTIVES IN PEACE TALK

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

If Marshal Stalin really wants peace, let him come to Washington by all means and talk things over. Presidents Roosevelt and Truman both crossed the seas to meet him—and reciprocity never hurt the reciprocator.

The Generalissimo will read "welcome" on the door mat. Moreover, if he will sign a peace pact with guarantees attached, we will give him a ticker-tape parade up Broadway.

However, we get nowhere with Stalin's assertion (in answer to a question by an American newsman) that "there is no objection to a meeting" with President Truman to discuss peace. Nothing could be more non-committal.

Bolsheviks Worried
Much the same can be said of the Communist chief's statement that he would be willing to discuss a joint declaration of peaceful intentions and gradual disarmament. We know already that Russia has no intention of attacking us at this time.

But that's not necessarily because of a desire for peace. It's because the Soviet Union isn't prepared militarily or economically to wage a shooting war against us.

Why then has Stalin seen fit to give a personal fillip to Moscow's latest "peace offensive?" Well, as this column previously has indicated, the cold fact seems to be that the Bolsheviks are worried by the growing strength of the opposition to communism. The consensus of observers is that the peace offensive is calculated to lull the western world into a feeling of security and so soften the anti-Red drive.

Marshall Plan Success
Specifically, among developments to worry Moscow is the proposed North Atlantic Alliance now being negotiated in Washington. Coincidentally the five nations in the Brussels pact—Britain, France, the Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg—agreed to set up a council of Europe which may develop into a European parliament.

Then there is the mounting success of the Marshall Plan which is bringing new life and strength to western Europe. Meanwhile the slave states of eastern Europe, cut off from trade with the West, are faring poorly.

Also ranking high on the list of Moscow's worries is the vigorous manner in which the United States is cleaning house for its Red fifth columnists. The Communists for a long time had a pretty free run. Now the law is catching up with their activities.

Ultior Purposes
Russia would give much to persuade Uncle Sam that her intentions are of the best, and thereby persuade him to give communism a good bill of health.

So the peace offensive apparently is being waged for ulterior purposes.

It would be pure folly to believe that Stalin now is about to toss over his shoulder everything that Bolshevism stands for. He may make gestures, but communism isn't changing its spots.

Desire For Romance Is Groundhog Lure

Punxsutawney, Pa., Feb. 2 (AP)—Desire for romance is the lure of the groundhog day tradition were told today the creature's reputation as a weather prophet may result from a desire for romance.

Skeptics cited a statement by the late Reinhold L. Fricke of Carnegie Museum, who wrote: "During February and March, the groundhog's track, may be seen leading from one den to another, probably searching for a mate. This may be the reason that it is credited with being a weather prophet on Candlemas day, Feb. 2. I believe its ability as a weather prophet is grossly overrated and stems from an old-world legend."

Duff Rejects Extra Aid For Hospitals

Harrisburg, Feb. 2 (AP)—A request of state-aided hospitals for double the state grants given them two years ago was rejected Tuesday by Gov. James H. Duff in his budget message.

He recommended allocation of $13,262,000 for free care at such institutions instead of the $26,000,000 requested by the Hospital Association of Pennsylvania. The budget recommendation compares with $13,262,000 appropriated two years ago.

Duff recommended $571,275 in grants for state-aided homes in comparison with $519,275 in the current two years. This represents a 10 per cent increase "to help meet increased costs," he said.

In asking for $26,000,000 for local hospitals, the Hospital Association said operating costs have more than doubled during the last five years.

Maroons Crush Carlisle 45-32 In Opening Second Half Race

Gettysburg high school's basketball team got off to an auspicious start in the second half race of the South Penn Basketball league by defeating Carlisle 45-32 on the latter's floor Tuesday evening.

Coach George Forney's outfit gave an impressive performance and, with the exception of the opening minutes, held the lead throughout. Carlisle drew first blood on a foul and goal by Piper in the first minute of play. Westerdahl landed a free throw for the Maroons and the score was deadlocked on Bushman's lay-up. Eisenhart looped a foul and a goal by Ahl gave Carlisle its final lead of the evening. Successive goals by Donaldson, Westerdahl and Bushman put the Maroons in front 10-5 midway in the quarter which finally ended 16-9.

There was little scoring in the second period. The Maroons picked up six points on goals by Donaldson and Bushman and a pair of free throws by Bushman. Stull's twin-pointer accounted for the only Carlisle points. At half time the Maroons were in front 22-11.

Carlisle rallied on its best exhibition in the third period and cut into the Maroon lead on goals by Biggs, Piper, Ahl, Irwin and Shearer. Meanwhile Bushman looped a twin pointer for the locals while Westerdahl added a pair of fouls and Donaldson and Eisenhart each netted single free tosses. At the end of the round Gettysburg led 28-23.

The Maroons quickly regained their stride in the fourth period on a goal by Sachs, foul by Bushman and goal by Donaldson. Midway in the period Carlisle brought the score to 39-32 but three successive goals by Eisenhart clinched the verdict.

Bill Bushman and Bill Eisenhart set the scoring pace for the Maroons with 15 and 14 points respectively and were given fine support by Donaldson, Westerdahl and Sachs.

Jayvees Victorious
Coach Howard Shoemaker's reserves, after being held to a 9-9 deadlock at half time, roared back to win 22 points in the final half to win the preliminary contest 31-19.

On Friday the Forney-men will meet Hershey high on the local floor. Maurice Reichenbaugh, Hershey center, is far out in front for the individual scoring honors in the league.

A fraternity brother who was watching shouted to Walt: "Try a half-nelson." Bartkiewicz, still holding his man under control, hoisted himself up and asked: "What's a half-nelson?" The "brother" demonstrated on a nearby pledge; Bartkiewicz exclaimed, "Oh, I see," and promptly pinned his rival.

"I'd like to buy that horse," Mrs. Hopkins remarked, and Sammy replied, "You can have him right now." The change of ownership was effected in the paddock and announced over the speakers. Three Rings then went out in the Hopkins colors and won a 25 to 1. He's been doing right well ever since.

Bullets Lace Dickinson 76-63; Meet Virginia Here Thursday

A fast-breaking, deadly-shooting Gettysburg college basketball team rode roughshod over its traditional rival Dickinson college, 76-63, before 1,700 fans at Carlisle Tuesday night.

Taking an early 9-0 lead, the Bullets were never headed as their slick operators caged 34 of 82 shots, many of them of the set variety. Midway in the third quarter, the Red Devils moved to within six points of Gettysburg, 52-46, but then faded as the Bullets shot into a 59-48 lead at the three-way mark.

The win was Gettysburg's ninth in its last ten games while the loss was Dickinson's third in seven engagements.

From the moment Walt Piechner sank a lay-up in the opening minute, Coach Bream's proteges showed a brilliant offensive — their best of the season. For the first five minutes, Dickinson was shut-out and gained its first points on Vince Hixon, f. 0-3-0. Paced by Piechner's nine points, the Bullets took an 18-9 lead in the first quarter. All of the starting five scored in the second period and at half time Gettysburg was out in front, 32-25.

O'Brien Brilliant
Bob O'Brien, who played one of his best games, started to find the range in the third quarter and racked up ten points on five field goals, four of them sensational set shots. At the beginning of the final period, the Bullets cagers scored six field goals on six consecutive tries and made eight of 16 attempts.

The victory was sweet revenge for the Orange and Blue whose teams have lost to Dickinson at Carlisle for the past two years. Hank Belber played probably the best game of his collegiate career as he tallied 18 points and set-up other markers. Walt "Scary" Piechner was in top form in the front court as he chalked up 24.

It was strictly a team victory. Rangy George Boehner again played a good game on the boards and came up with many rebounds. Walter (Bucky) Harris had a great deal of difficulty with his pivot shot on the fan-shaped boards until the second half when he scored 11 points.

Fresh Lose First
Coach Johnny Voviesin's freshman cagers dropped a thrilling one-point game to the Dickinson freshmen, 42-41, which was decided on a foul toss by Kinsella in the last 20 seconds.

The local yearlings held a seven point edge midway in the final quarter but couldn't hold it after Eugene Coder fouled out.

It was the first loss for the Gettysburg freshmen, against five wins. On Thursday the Bullets entertain the strong University of Virginia team here at 8:15 p. m. Only one game will be played, the frosh-mat.

HEART FAILURE FATAL TO BOY, 6

Philadelphia, Feb. 2 (AP)—Terry Walker, six-year-old son of Harry Walker, former National league batting champion, died today at Temple University hospital. Hospital officials said death was caused by heart failure.

Walker, whose .363 led the league in 1947 when he was playing center-field for the Philadelphia Phillies, flew here last night to be near his ailing son, who had suffered from a blood disease for nearly two years.

A hip operation was performed on Terry yesterday and his condition was listed as serious as a result of shock. Walker was notified at his Leeds, Ala., home and he quickly went to Birmingham for the flight here. A police escort rushed him to the hospital.

Mrs. Walker had remained with Terry since his arrival at the hospital last December. Her husband, traded to the Chicago Cubs several months ago, had returned to Alabama to operate his general merchandise store.

The Walkers' other child, Carol, 2, is staying with friends in Alabama.

'Old Buzzard'

Gettysburg insurance man, class of 1905 at the college and chapter advisor.

Prints One Copy
Mr. Bickle is known familiarly to the fraternity boys and to many townspeople as "The Old Buzzard."

He even gets mail addressed that way. Hence, in honor of ye editor, "The Old Buzzard." As for the "Roost," the paper is placed at the top of the bulletin board each day at the Sigma Chi house.

"The Old Buzzard's Roost" is not only the only daily fraternity newspaper in the United States, and perhaps in the world, but it is probably the only one which publishes but one copy per day. This is the one which goes on the top of the bulletin board. Publication is daily throughout the college year, except Sundays.

The first issue of the paper made its appearance on October 19, 1946. At first its masthead was hand-drawn in ink, but it has now graduated to a printed top line like all big newspapers.

"Breezy and Newsy"
"We haven't missed a day of publication yet," says the editor and publisher.

The masthead is the only "set" part of the paper. Its pictures, cartoons and reading matter are all hand work. Its column rules are penciled, and its type is "set" on Mr. Bickle's typewriter. Its illustrations are clipped and pasted on the small sheet, on letter-size paper.

It's breezy, it's newsy, and it's designed to be not only informative to the present generation of Sigma Chi boys attending Gettysburg college, but to provide laughs and quips for the Sigma Chis of a later generation when they read what their dads did in college and fraternity.

The first four volumes of "The Old Buzzard's Roost" are preserved for posterity in bound files in Mr. Bickle's office. As each new daily issue "comes off the press" and is placed on the bulletin board, the previous day's "sheet" is taken down and preserved for the next bound file.

Helpful Tips For Home Builder

"East River" Is Modified Cape Cod

The Cape Cod style of architecture didn't come into being on the spur of the moment. The hardy Massachusetts settlers of that arm of land that juts out into the Atlantic—farmers and fishermen—put a wealth of foresight and care into planning those trim little cottages, some of which still stand in use today after centuries of occupancy.

Small wonder then that home-builders and architects of 1949 are still following the pattern of those old dwellings. An example of how the Cape Cod fits into the modern scheme of living is seen in "The East River," a plan by the "Home of the Week" Plan Service.

This house measures 31x23 feet. Its cubage totals 14,500, with the garage added 2,300 to this total. Addition of the breezeway and garage to the house, as pictured, will necessitate a lot with not less than 60-foot frontage.

Small Ell Added
While, in general lines, The East River follows the Cape Cod style, the designers have broken the front-wall plane with a small ell. A distinctive effect results from this unusual treatment. The modern mullion window and small circle window in the gable above give added novelty to the dwelling's front.

Outside walls of such a cottage could be finished with painted shingles or clapboards. White walls, with a green asphalt roof and green trim, or with black roof and trim, are suggested color schemes for the exterior.

The front door of The East River opens into a small entry hall, from which stairs lead to the second floor. A coat closet is at the left of the stairway.

Built-in Cabinet
The living room, measuring 14x13.6, is at the left of the entry hall. Centered in the far outside wall of this room is a fireplace flanked by windows with built-in book shelves below the sills. The large mullion window looking out to the front of the house floods the room with sunlight through most of the day.

Across the room from the fireplace a wall niche is of a nice size to accommodate a writing desk. Except for a doorway, opening on an inner hallway, the long inside wall of the living room is unbroken; this simplifying the problem of furniture placement.

The dining room measures 11x10.6 and is located at the right of the front entrance hall. A wide window on the side of the house is a feature of the dining room. A built-in corner china cabinet occupies space between the side and front windows of the room.

A swinging door connects the dining room and kitchen. Just within this doorway, in the kitchen, another door opens to the breezeway, or porch, between house and garage. Three windows also break the kitchen's wall space, leaving ample cupboard space above the L-shaped working counter. Stove and refrigerator stand conveniently close to the working counter. A small broom closet is located by the range and between this closet and the refrigerator a doorway leads to the inner hall, connecting with the living room. The bathroom, cellar stairway, a storage closet and a linen closet all open off this hall. At the opposite end of the corridor from the kitchen is a first-floor bedroom, or den, measuring 10.6x8.6 in floor dimensions.

The second floor plan of The East River provides a small hall space at the top of the stairs. Opposite the stair landing is a second bathroom. At either end of the upper hall are doors to the bedrooms. The bedrooms measure 13x12 and 12x10.6 feet, respectively and each room has windows on two exposures, giving cross-ventilation, and generous sized

INSULATION IS EXACT SCIENCE

Insulating, heating and air conditioning, while all highly technical subjects, demand a good deal of consideration if you are planning to build. On the correct selection of material and equipment will depend the future comfort of your home.

The scientific insulation of homes was practically unknown ten or even five years ago. Today the manufacture and installation of home insulation has become an exact science. A house now in the course of construction or one fifty years old—whether it be clapboard, brick veneer, stucco, shingles, or stone—can be made far more comfortable to live in than ever before dreamed possible.

If a house is properly insulated, a tremendous saving will result in the cost of heating it for insulation concentrates heat in the interior without allowing it to escape to the outside. Experts recommend the addition of insulation in the walls and ceiling below the attic space as it would materially lessen fuel consumption. In fact, so great is the fuel economy that it would, in a short time, pay for the additional cost of complete insulation.

Ordinarily, heat penetrates through walls, ceilings and roof no matter how well built the house may be and this heat loss is termed less by conduction. Another way in which heat is dissipated is by convection, or the interchange of warm and cold air. A third way is by radiation with the heat waves radiating in ever widening circles; hot near the source or fire, and cooler further away.

The purpose of insulation then is to minimize the loss of heat and to confine it in the location where most needed. There are several groups of insulation made from different material, all of which offer special protection. Within these classes are many different company products so that the actual selection of insulation demands a knowledge of materials and is best left to the discretion of the architect or builder.

TOO FEW OUTLETS

Electricians say that a perfectly equipped home should have about 130 electrical outlets but the average house has less than 30.

"The night of Sept. 14, 1944, the hurricane blew down trees in our yard and other buildings were damaged, but your Tite-On Shingles stood the gaff and remained solid to the roof."

Letters like this prove that Tite-Ons live up to their name. They're specifically designed to resist the strongest gales. That's why a Tite-On roof is a profitable investment—it's trouble-free! Don't wait for howling winds to remind you that your roof needs attention—re-roof now with Tite-On shingles. Remember you get these patented features only in the genuine Tite-On Shingle, made exclusively by the Ruberoid Co.

Concealed interlocking keeps Tite-Ons in place when other shingles go flying. This patented feature makes your roof permanently windproof and weatherproof. Each shingle interlocks in four places, and in addition has concealed nailing at four points. The result is a roof that's virtually "one-piece," that can't blow up or come loose!

SEEK TO SPEED LABOR HEARING

Washington, Feb. 2 (AP)—Senators conducting public hearings on the Truman Labor bill shifted to high speed today under a new "hurry up" order calling for night shifts.

The Labor committee listed two witnesses for this first day of the speed-up: Chairman Paul M. Herzog of the National Labor Relations board and Secretary of Labor Maurice Tobin.

Herzog waited around for two hours and a half yesterday, but never did get on the stand.

Tobin was called back for cross examination on his testimony earlier this week urging passage of a bill which would (1) repeal the Taft-Hartley law and (2) restore the old Wagner act with the "improvements" President Truman wants.

The committee voted 10 days ago to wind up hearings on that measure February 10. But the sessions which started Monday moved along so slowly that the Democratic majority got alarmed.

So, at a meeting late yesterday, the committee decided to hear out Herzog and Tobin today even if that requires running the session into the evening. Starting tomorrow the speed-up really will get underway. From then through February 10 the hearings are to start each day at 9:30 a. m. and run to 10 p. m.

Fourteen men were named to the AAU All-America swimming team.

SCHMITTHENNER COMMISSIONED

Philadelphia, Feb. 2 (AP)—Dr. Jerry Eyster Schmitthenner, Chambersburg, was commissioned Saturday as a lieutenant, junior grade, in the Navy Medical Corps Reserve under the Navy's graduate medical training program.

Lt. Schmitthenner is now serving as an intern at Lankenau hospital, Philadelphia, and will complete his intern training at that hospital while on active duty in the navy. He will then spend one year attached to a naval hospital or dispensary and may request further duty in the Navy. If, however, he then returns to civilian life as a member of the inactive Naval Reserve he will be subject to call in the event of a national emergency.

Lt. Schmitthenner is the son of the late Rev. and Mrs. A. H. Schmitthenner who were Lutheran missionaries in south India. He attended Gettysburg college, Yale university, and the University of Pennsylvania Medical School.

Lt. Schmitthenner is a member of the Phi Kappa Phi fraternity, the Phi Rho Sigma medical fraternity, the First Obstetrical Society, and the Deaver Surgical Society.

Jersey City, N. J., Feb. 2 (AP)—A 1948 deficit almost nine times as large as that in 1947 was reported yesterday by the Central Railroad of New Jersey and its wholly-owned subsidiary the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania. Earl T. Moore, chief executive officer of the Jersey Central, said the 1948 deficit was caused primarily by a payment in June of $9,307,225 to New Jersey in settlement of back taxes.

Would Put County Recorder On Salary

Harrisburg, Feb. 2 (AP)—Seventeen of Pennsylvania's 68 counties would be allowed to pay their recorders of deeds a salary of $6,000 a year under a bill in the state House of Representatives.

The counties are Delaware, Lackawanna, Luzerne, Montgomery, Westmoreland, Beaver, Berks, Cambria, Dauphin, Erie, Fayette, Lancaster, Lehigh, Northampton, Schuylkill, Washington and York.

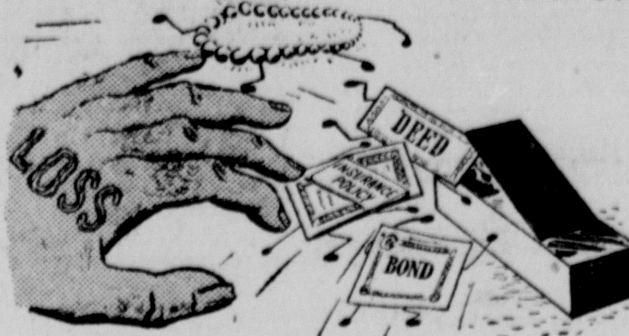

The bill was sponsored by Reps. Paul A. Delong and Mark W. Hoffman (R-Lehigh).

In another bill sponsored by Rep. Gus Wachhaus (R-Schuylkill), the recorders would be authorized to form a state association with the counties paying their expenses to attend annual convention.

Frank Tripuka, Notre Dame quarterback star, has a weekly sports-cast on the campus station, WND.
